

Michael R. Dumais

---

Chief Transformation Officer

Michael Dumais is the chief transformation officer and leads Corporate Strategy and Development for Raytheon Technologies. He is responsible for the planning and execution of initiatives to meet the company's objectives and secure its growth.

Dumais has more than 20 years of experience in business strategy and execution. Most recently he was the executive vice president of operations and strategy for United Technologies Corporation prior to its merger with Raytheon Company in 2020.

Before that, Dumais served as senior vice president for strategic planning for UTC. He previously led the Power, Controls & Sensing Systems business segment at UTC Aerospace Systems. Dumais also held numerous leadership positions at UTC's Hamilton Sundstrand division, including president, vice president of operations and vice president of customer service.

Prior to joining UTC, he held various strategic business roles with the consulting firm Bain & Company. He began his career at General Electric Aerospace as a systems engineer.

Dumais holds a bachelor's degree in electronics engineering from Virginia Tech, a master's degree in electronics engineering from the University of Pennsylvania and an MBA from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business, where he was a Palmer Scholar.